

In September of this year, a long-awaited event occurred – Anton Tikhomirov began his work as a teacher at our seminary. A native of St. Petersburg, Anton has become the first Russian-speaking teacher/theologian of our church. Anton is also a graduate of the seminary – he was among the first class of graduates. After graduation Anton and his family spent five years in Erlangen (Germany), where he received first a master's and then a doctoral degree in theology.

Now Anton, together with his wife Sofia (also a graduate of our seminary) and their children (Arina, Nikita, and Arseniy) live in the Seminary's Katerina von Bora house. In the upcoming semester he will teach classes on Homiletics, Christian Confessions and Study Methods.
