

Basic Theological Program

In the middle of February (14th -18th) of this year the Seminary held a special seminar – 12 participants from all parts of ELCROS came to becoming acquainted with the methods of teaching and materials for basic theology courses. Among the participants were a number of former students from Novosaratovka for whom the seminar was a good chance to renew contacts and to learn the latest news from the seminary.

In the middle of February (14th -18th) of this year the Seminary held a special seminar – 12 participants from all parts of ELCROS came to becoming acquainted with the methods of teaching and materials for basic theology courses. Among the participants were a number of former students from Novosaratovka for whom the seminar was a good chance to renew contacts and to learn the latest news from the seminary.

The “Basic Course” of theology is called to introduce people to Lutheran theology and is aimed at church staff to help them when they need to give deeper-than-confirmation-level answers to questions of faith. In large part the course is based on the reading of biblical texts. After the seminar the regions can lead this Basic Biblical Course which, we hope, will serve to improve the theological education among the staff of our Church. In a year’s time the group of teachers of the “Basic Course” are to come together again in order to share experiences and to become acquainted with further steps in the work.

Godeke von Bremen (President of the Theological Seminary)